2024 Training Course on Ocean Governance:
Policies, Technologies and Practices

Host by: National Marine Data and Information Service/Ministry of Natural Resources of China

Organize by: International Ocean Institute-China Regional Centre for the Western Pacific Region

Introduction

National Marine Data and Information Service, Ministry of Natural Resources of the People's Republic of China, will be hosting the 2024 Training Course on Ocean Governance: Policies, Technologies and Practices scheduled during May 27-June 7, 2024 in Tianjin, China. The training course aims at providing the basic knowledge and practice of ocean governance with special reference to the international legal framework for ocean governance set up by the UNCLOS, and to the policies, technologies, methodology and good practices of ocean governance for both coastal zones and the marine areas beyond the national jurisdiction.

Objectives

It is hoped that this training programme will make a contribution to the capacity building for the participants to meet the new challenge of ocean governance from perspective of new situation of the ocean governance, to:

- deepen their understanding of the complexity and role of ocean-related issues in sustainable development;
- deepen their understanding of the importance of the oceans and their resources in social-economic development of the region;
- strengthen and update academic knowledge, while being exposed to practical lessons drawn from actual experience in integrated coastal and ocean management.

Eligibility

(1) Governmental employees who have been engaged in ocean and coastal management, marine planning, marine science and technology research or have been working at ocean affair management departments at various levels of governments for more than 2 years, and have a bachelor degree or higher.

(2) Professionals who have been engaged in ocean education, marine scientific and technological research at universities or research institutes for more than 2 years, and have a bachelor degree or higher.

(3) Language requirement: good command of English

Date: May 27-June 7, 2024

Place: Tianjin, China

Working Language: English

Key Date:
Application Deadline: April 5, 2024

Application Documents:
1. One recommendation letter from the employer of applicant;
2. Application form with a photo attached(in WORD VERSION).
3. Photocopy of passport (within 6-month validity)

Contact Information:
Ms. WAN Fangfang
Course Coordinator
Address: No.93, Liuwei Road,Hedong District, Tianjin 300171, China
Tel: +86-(0)22-24010866
E-mail: ioiwestpactraining@163.com